An OLD SHEEP CONTRACT.

Alleging that Luis Terrazas violated a contract for the delivery of sheep.

J. W. Powell filed suit in the 41st district court Wednesday asking $13,600 damages. According to the terms of the contract, the plaintiff said, the sheep were to be delivered on Oct. 6, 1306, at points on the Mexican Central between Chihushua and El Pago. The condition of the sheep in violation of the agreement, the plaintiff says, was such that they could not be shipped to the Kansas City market. He claims he lost money because of this.
